

Scandal response

By Makayla Kutch, Campaign Manager/Spin Doctor

A former office secretary has come forward claiming that they have been pressured into a hidden physical relationship with our candidate and was apparently paid to keep quiet on this matter. I would like to inform everyone that this information is incorrect, this is a rumor that was provoked by our former office secretary because we fired her for poor performance. We have talked to both parties and this is fully incorrect information that this angry former employee sought out revenge. We got search warrant for both their computers and especially emails, we found nothing so, everything is cleared up. We are going to do our best to make sure this does not happen.
